EXPODIRECT
Trade Event Furniture

Product Specification Sheet

sales@expodirect.co.uk | 0800 910 1919

96” x 50” Oval Banqueting Table

SKU: FN-BQT-96OVL
Category: Tables, EventPro® Series, Banqueting Tables
Condition: New

£199.95 ex-VAT

Description

96" x 50" Oval Banqueting Table

An oval banqueting table measuring 244cm long by 127cm wide (96 x 50 inches), with an 18mm plywood top and brown hammer powder-coated folding steel legs. This is the larger of the two oval formats, seating 10–12 guests with generous spacing. The extra width (127cm vs 102cm on the 90" model) gives you a substantial central zone for large centrepieces, candelabras, sharing platters, and wine service.

The table stands 76cm tall and weighs 24–26kg. Two people can carry and position it. The folding legs collapse flat and the table stores on edge or flat-stacked in a warehouse.

Capacity and Dining Style

Ten guests sit with full formal place settings including charger plates, multiple glasses, and side plates. Twelve fit for less formal dining or events with minimal table decoration. The 127cm width means guests on opposite sides sit further apart than at a standard 76cm-wide rectangular table, which suits noisy environments where cross-table conversation is less important than within-group interaction along the long sides.

Wedding breakfasts use the 96" oval for the top table, giving the wedding party a curved, inclusive seating line that faces the room. VIP dining areas at corporate galas use them to signal status through the generous proportions and distinct shape.

The Oval Shape

Curved ends encourage conversation among end-seated guests and create distinct walkways for catering staff. The shape softens the geometry of a room filled with rectangular tables. Mixing one or two ovals into a room of rounds creates visual interest without disrupting the overall floor plan.

Construction

The 18mm plywood top is rigid under load. The brown hammer powder-coat on the folding steel legs resists corrosion and hides scuffs. The folding mechanism requires no tools and locks in the open position.

Bulk Buying and Large Room Planning

Buyers order the 96 inch oval for statement dining, top tables, and VIP areas where standard rounds feel too common and narrow rectangles feel too severe. In a 100 person room, a planner might use one or two large ovals for hosts or speakers, then fill the guest floor with rounds or smaller rectangles. That approach keeps sight lines open and gives waiting staff a clear route past the table ends. If you plan a full room of ovals, map the aisle widths with care because the 127cm depth asks for more space between rows once guests pull chairs back.

Large orders need thought beyond seat count. The wider top needs more rack depth, more wall space in transport, and more lift discipline from crews. Buyers who take 20 or more often assign two person handling as standard and use table trolleys or padded storage points to reduce edge damage. Those steps protect the finish and cut strain on staff during fast room turns.

Pairing Suggestions and Venue Use

This table pairs with Chiavari chairs for wedding top tables, with padded banqueting chairs for gala dining, and with floral work that runs the full centre line without crowding guest covers. Buyers use it in manor houses, civic halls, hotel ballrooms, university great halls, and corporate hospitality rooms where hosts want a table shape that stands apart from the rest of the floor. Caterers also use the wide centre zone for shared platters, wine buckets, and statement decor at launch events and donor dinners.

Planners often combine the 96 inch oval with 6ft rounds in the main room and with 4ft rectangular or 6ft rectangular tables in service areas. That mix gives stylists one focal table for the room while the support tables stay out of sight. In a marquee, the curved ends help staff move round the table without the sharp collision points that long rectangles can create near guy lines and side walls.

Care, Structural Notes, and Lifespan

Two people should handle this table from store to floor. Staff can reduce wear by lifting from the frame, not the rim, and by using separators between tops in storage. The broad face can collect dust if stacks sit for long periods, so teams should cover the stack or clean before each event build. If the table sees marquee use, crews should dry the underside after damp weather before they return it to the rack.

The extra width changes how the table works. Guests gain more room for chargers, glassware, and central decor, yet they sit farther apart across the short axis than on a narrow dining table. That suits formal service where staff need a centre zone for presentation and shared dishes. Buyers should still spread concentrated loads, keep tall decor stable, and check that chair pull back does not close the aisle. With good handling and dry storage, this table can serve as a flagship piece for many years.

Top material: 18mm plywood
Leg finish: brown hammer powder-coated steel, folding Dimensions: 244cm L x 127cm W x 76cm H (96" x 50" x 30")
Weight: 24–26kg
Seating capacity: 10–12 guests
Use: indoor

Specifications

Dimensions: 244cm x 127cm x 76cm
Weight: 33.00 kg

https://expodirect.co.uk/product/96-x-50-oval-banqueting-table-folding-wedding-event-table-eventpro-series — generated 26 November 2026