Description

EventPro® Series Eames Style Chair – Blue

A moulded polypropylene shell chair on solid beech wood legs with reinforced steel fixings. Blue shell. The chair weighs 3kg, supports up to 120kg, and stacks 4 high. Rubber feet protect floor surfaces. Dimensions: 45.5cm wide, 51.5cm deep, 82cm tall.

The blue shell paired with natural beech legs creates a fresh, contemporary look suited to corporate events, exhibitions, and creative venues. Blue reads as professional and approachable in equal measure, making it a popular choice for technology companies, healthcare brands, and educational institutions.

Construction

The polypropylene shell is injection-moulded in a single piece. No seams, no joints in the seating surface, no upholstery to tear or stain. The material resists impact from stacking and transport, handles spilled drinks without absorbing, and wipes clean with a damp cloth.

The solid beech wood legs connect to the shell via reinforced steel fixings that distribute load across multiple attachment points. Beech provides the hardness and grain consistency needed for furniture legs that endure thousands of use cycles. The warm timber tone complements the cool blue shell.

Stacking

The chairs stack 4 high. The shell geometry nests so stacked chairs occupy minimal additional height per unit. Rubber feet prevent sliding on smooth floors.

The Blue Shell

Blue is the most requested corporate colour across the events industry. It aligns with financial services branding, NHS and healthcare themes, technology company palettes, and university colours. The blue here is a mid-tone that avoids both the coldness of navy and the childishness of bright primary blue.

Mix blue chairs with white or grey for a coordinated multi-colour scheme, or deploy in a full room for a unified brand statement.

Part of the EventPro® range. Trusted by the BBC, ITV, HSBC, Cambridge University, and used at the Commonwealth Games.

Buying in Bulk

If you buy 50, 100, or 200 side chairs, start with storage maths. Four high stacks save floor area, but you still need enough gangway space for crews to pull a stack, turn it, and load it without clipping walls. Buyers who run hotel stock rooms, council venues, or campus halls often group chairs in colour blocks and count each bay by stack so staff can spot shortages in one walk through.

Layout Planning

You can use this chair in dining, meeting, exam, and breakout layouts with less floor demand than an armchair. A 100 person dinner often uses ten round tables with ten chairs on each table, or twelve trestle tables with eight to ten guests per run, depending on plate size and service style. Many planners keep 1.2 metres on main aisles and more around fire exits, stage access, and service stations.

The Blue Shell

Buyers choose blue when they want a dining or meeting chair that feels calm and ordered. Blue sits well in training rooms, council sites, NHS venues, university halls, and conference floors where guests spend time at a table. The shell lifts a neutral room without taking it over.

Under cool light the colour looks crisp and clear. Under warm lamps it turns softer and works with oak, white linen, and chrome. Teams mix blue chairs with white crockery and pale tablecloths for awards lunches, campus dining, and public sector events.

Pairing Across the EventPro® Range

Buyers pair this chair with banqueting tables, trestle tables, café tables, poseur tables, and the matching EventPro® Eiffel armchair. That gives you one seat style for dining rows, smaller meeting sets, and front of house waiting areas. If you run mixed rooms, you can keep side chairs on guest tables and place armchairs on top tables, registrar positions, or lounge corners.

Care and Service Life

Staff keep these chairs in good order when they lift them on and off the stack, wipe spills at strike time, and keep the timber legs dry in store. The steel fixings spread force from the shell into the legs, and the beech legs take repeated floor contact without the soft dents you see in cheap mixed timber sets. If you run conference or catering stock at pace, keep felt pads and spare feet in your stores so your team can swap small parts before a mark turns into a full repair.
