Description

EventPro® Series Eames Style Chair – Grey

A moulded polypropylene shell chair on solid beech wood legs with reinforced steel fixings. Grey shell. The chair weighs 4kg, supports up to 120kg, and stacks 4 high. Rubber feet protect floor surfaces. Dimensions: 45.5cm wide, 51.5cm deep, 82cm tall.

Grey is the most versatile colour in the Eames range. It disappears into any environment, suits every brand palette, and hides minor dust and scuffs better than white or black. If you are building a fleet for mixed-use deployment across multiple clients and event types, grey gives you the widest compatibility.

Construction

The polypropylene shell is injection-moulded in a single piece. No seams, no joints in the seating surface, no upholstery to tear or stain. The material resists impact from stacking and transport, handles spilled drinks without absorbing, and wipes clean with a damp cloth.

The solid beech wood legs connect to the shell via reinforced steel fixings that distribute load across multiple attachment points. Beech provides the hardness and grain consistency needed for furniture legs that endure thousands of use cycles. The warm timber base softens the cool grey shell.

Stacking

The chairs stack 4 high. The shell geometry nests so stacked chairs occupy minimal additional height per unit. Rubber feet prevent sliding on smooth floors.

The Grey Shell

Grey suits corporate environments above all: technology companies, financial institutions, legal firms, consulting practices, and any venue where neutral tones dominate. The colour also works for exhibitions and trade shows where the chair should recede and let the displayed product take focus.

Grey hides the minor dust accumulation and handling marks that show on white furniture within hours of an event starting. It maintains a clean appearance through a full event day without mid-event wiping.

Part of the EventPro® range. Trusted by the BBC, ITV, HSBC, Cambridge University, and used at the Commonwealth Games.

Buying in Bulk

If you buy 50, 100, or 200 side chairs, start with storage maths. Four high stacks save floor area, but you still need enough gangway space for crews to pull a stack, turn it, and load it without clipping walls. Buyers who run hotel stock rooms, council venues, or campus halls often group chairs in colour blocks and count each bay by stack so staff can spot shortages in one walk through.

Layout Planning

You can use this chair in dining, meeting, exam, and breakout layouts with less floor demand than an armchair. A 100 person dinner often uses ten round tables with ten chairs on each table, or twelve trestle tables with eight to ten guests per run, depending on plate size and service style. Many planners keep 1.2 metres on main aisles and more around fire exits, stage access, and service stations.

The Grey Shell

Buyers pick grey when they need a neutral chair that softens a room without turning flat. Grey sits with timber, white linen, stone floors, and black frames in a way that feels measured and calm. Under warm light the shell picks up a taupe cast. Under daylight it looks cooler and more silver.

That tone suits conferences, hotel dining rooms, council venues, and university halls where many room finishes meet in one space. Teams also use grey when they want one stock line for mixed event work, from wedding meals to public meetings and trade stand seating.

Pairing Across the EventPro® Range

Buyers pair this chair with banqueting tables, trestle tables, café tables, poseur tables, and the matching EventPro® Eiffel armchair. That gives you one seat style for dining rows, smaller meeting sets, and front of house waiting areas. If you run mixed rooms, you can keep side chairs on guest tables and place armchairs on top tables, registrar positions, or lounge corners.

Care and Service Life

Staff keep these chairs in good order when they lift them on and off the stack, wipe spills at strike time, and keep the timber legs dry in store. The steel fixings spread force from the shell into the legs, and the beech legs take repeated floor contact without the soft dents you see in cheap mixed timber sets. If you run conference or catering stock at pace, keep felt pads and spare feet in your stores so your team can swap small parts before a mark turns into a full repair.
