Description

EventPro® Series Eames Style Chair – White

A moulded polypropylene shell chair on solid beech wood legs with reinforced steel fixings. White shell. The chair weighs 3kg, supports up to 120kg, and stacks 4 high. Rubber feet protect floor surfaces. Dimensions: 45.5cm wide, 51.5cm deep, 82cm tall.

The white shell contrasts with the natural timber base to create a Scandinavian-influenced aesthetic that suits weddings, graduation dinners, afternoon tea events, and modern corporate venues. White maximises the sense of light and space in a room.

Construction

The polypropylene shell is injection-moulded in a single piece. No seams, no joints in the seating surface, no upholstery to tear or stain. The material resists impact from stacking and transport, handles spilled drinks without absorbing, and wipes clean with a damp cloth.

The solid beech wood legs connect to the shell via reinforced steel fixings that distribute load across multiple attachment points. Beech provides the hardness and grain consistency needed for furniture legs that endure thousands of use cycles. The warm timber base prevents white from reading as clinical or sterile.

Stacking

The chairs stack 4 high. The shell geometry nests so stacked chairs occupy minimal additional height per unit. Rubber feet prevent sliding on smooth floors.

The White Shell

White is the most popular colour for weddings, engagement parties, christenings, and formal celebrations. It photographs clean under flash and natural light. It pairs with every linen colour and every flower arrangement. For venues with existing white or cream decor, white chairs integrate without visual competition.

White does show handling marks and dust faster than darker colours. Wipe down with a damp cloth before each event. The non-porous polypropylene releases stains without chemical intervention in most cases.

Part of the EventPro® range. Trusted by the BBC, ITV, HSBC, Cambridge University, and used at the Commonwealth Games.

Buying in Bulk

If you are buying 50, 100, or 200 chairs, the four high stack gives you a clear stock plan from day one. Four chairs sit in one neat stack, so venue teams can count, move, and store stock without guesswork. A 100 seat dining room can keep 96 chairs in 24 stacks and hold four spare units for damage cover. Buyers fitting out wedding barns, sixth form cafés, NHS visitor spaces, and university halls often order in matched blocks so each room keeps the same finish from front row to back wall.

You can pair the white shell with timber tables, black framed poseur tables, or round banqueting tables if you want a clean room with light contrast. White sits well with sage, blush, navy, and natural linen. Under daylight it reads crisp. Under warm lamp light it picks up a soft cream tone that suits barns, halls, and reception spaces with timber beams or stone walls.

Layout Planning

You can seat four guests around a 120cm round table, five around 150cm, and six around 180cm if service staff need more room for plates and glassware. For a 100 person dinner, planners often use ten rounds of ten and keep six spare chairs off floor until guests arrive. Keep at least 1.2 metres for main aisles and protect fire exit routes with clear sight lines. If you are laying out a training room or exam space, keep enough gap between chair backs for staff to pass without turning sideways.

The 120kg load rating matters in practice because buyers need chairs that stay steady across long meal periods, staff briefings, and audience sessions. The steel fixings spread load from the shell into the beech base, so guests feel less flex when they sit down or shift weight. The 3kg unit weight lets crews lift and place stacks without the fatigue that comes with heavy banquet stock.

Care and Service Life

White furniture asks for better handling, and good teams know that before the first order lands. Staff should wipe the shell before each service, check the feet after long moves, and keep the chairs dry in store. Most marks lift with warm water and mild soap. If your crew avoids rough dragging, tightens fixings during stock checks, and stores the chairs on clean floors or trolleys, you can hold the finish for years in wedding venues, schools, galleries, and modern conference sites.
