Description

EventPro® Series Folding Chair – White (Pack of 10)

A pack of 10 white folding chairs with heavy-gauge steel frames, reinforced hinge mechanisms, and high-strength moulded seats and backs. Each chair weighs 3.4kg, supports up to 110kg, and folds flat for stacking and transport. 12,000 chairs from this range were supplied to the Commonwealth Games. Trusted by the BBC, ITV, HSBC, and Cambridge University.

The white finish suits formal events, weddings, graduation ceremonies, afternoon tea, and any occasion where visual lightness matters. The consistent white colour maintains uniformity across rows of hundreds.

Construction

The steel frame uses heavy-gauge tubing, not the lightweight section found in domestic folding chairs. The wall thickness handles the repeated stress of commercial use: constant folding, stacking, van loading, and deployment across multiple events per week. The reinforced hinge mechanisms resist the loosening that causes cheaper chairs to wobble after hundreds of fold cycles.

The moulded seat and backrest are high-strength polymer, contoured for comfort during events lasting several hours. The white finish is consistent across all chairs in the pack. White reads as celebratory and formal under both natural daylight and artificial event lighting.

Typical Uses

Wedding ceremony seating (both indoor and marquee). Graduation audience seating. Corporate product launch audiences. Garden party seating. Afternoon tea events. White-themed gala dinners. Religious ceremonies. Memorial services. The white folding chair is the events industry standard for formal occasions where visual elegance must combine with high-volume, rapid-deployment practicality.

The folding format stores hundreds of chairs in minimal warehouse space. Purpose-built trolleys hold 40+ folded chairs per stack.

The Pack of 10

Sold in packs of 10 for efficient ordering. Ten chairs serve one round table or one ceremony row. For a 300-seat wedding ceremony, order 30 packs. The pack format also simplifies stock counting and inventory management.

Part of the EventPro® range. The same specification deployed at the Commonwealth Games, where 12,000 units operated across multiple venues throughout the event programme.

Buying in Bulk

The pack of 10 format gives buyers a clean way to build stock. Five packs seat 50 guests, ten packs seat 100, and thirty packs cover a 300 seat ceremony. Wedding venues, schools, councils, and churches can order in blocks that match floor plans and storage bays. Each chair folds flat, so your crew can load dense stacks on trolleys and keep spare packs in reserve without giving away half a store room to seating.

If you are planning large ceremonies, think about the route from store to venue before your order lands. A trolley that holds 40 or more folded chairs cuts labour and keeps white seats cleaner during moves. Two staff members can place four trolley loads into a hall and set 160 seats with less handling than fixed banquet chairs would need. The 3.4kg weight helps the chair feel planted in use, but crews can still move volume stock without strain.

Layout Planning and Pairing

You can use white folding chairs for wedding ceremonies, graduations, product launches, school awards, and garden events under cover. In a 100 person room, planners often set ten rows of ten with a 1.5 metre centre aisle and side aisles of at least 1.2 metres. For round tables, ten chairs fit around a 180cm table, though many caterers use eight if they want more room for service. Keep fire exits clear and leave enough space behind the rear row for late arrivals and staff checks.

The white finish pairs well with white gazebos, ivory linen, chrome poseur tables, and black stage drape. Buyers who run mixed stock often use white in guest facing zones and black in back of house or staff rooms. White lifts marquees, village halls, and civic rooms that need more light on camera. Under warm lighting it softens. Under daylight it keeps a crisp line across long rows.

Maintenance and Service Life

White stock asks for disciplined handling. Staff should wipe seats before doors open, keep folded stacks off muddy ground, and use clean trolleys for transport. Most marks lift with warm water and mild soap. Check the hinges, feet, and frame joints during stock counts. Teams who store the chairs dry and avoid hard impacts on ramps or kerbs keep the finish in service for years across venues, education sites, NHS trusts, and hospitality rooms.
